

Loeb, Leopold Defense Makes Slight Gain In Battle Of Alienists

State Pathologist Admits Failure to Question Kidnaper-Murderers

DISPUTE FOR TWO HOURS

Completion of Evidence Is Expected Wednesday After Crowe Dismisses Witnesses

By Associated Press
Chicago—The Franks hearing Sunday morning developed into a very hour wit and word battle between Clarence S. Darrow, chief of defense counsel, and Dr. H. D. Slinger, the state's fourth alienist, with Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney and Mr. Darrow also warring.

The chief gains for the defense were admissions by Dr. Slinger that he had asked Nathan F. Leopold and Richard Loeb, kidnappers-murderers of Robert Franks, no questions and that his conclusion that they were sane was based upon observation only that the youths present "are in the critical time for developing 'mental sickness'" and that a "split personality" might be evidence towards mental disorder.

A report by James Quinlan attorney and investigator for the defense, indicating that the murder cases in Illinois in the past ten years in which pleas of insanity were entered by one man Thomas Fitzgerald sentenced by Mr. Crowe, when he was chief justice, had been hung, was admitted as evidence.

The report was designed to further the defense for penitentiary sentence for Loeb and Leopold instead of the gallows, showing no minor had been hanged in ten years on a plea of guilty, Fitzgerald being nearly 40 years old.

Dr. Slinger's cross examination will be continued Monday with only one witness Dr. W. O. Krohn, alienist for the state, remaining to be heard by Mr. Crowe. Arguments will be heard by the jury.

The prosecution Saturday night offered to rebut the defense contention that mental disease of Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb should mitigate the penalty they must pay for kidnapping and murdering Robert Franks.

Cross examination of Dr. H. Douglas Slinger, mental pathologist, consumed all of Saturday's half session, leaving only the testimony of Dr. W. O. Krohn, "one" of the state's alienists, yet to be adduced by the state in its attempt to show the youths are normal and should be given a death sentence.

Completion of all evidence in the case by next Wednesday was forecast since Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, decided not to call any of the 50 lay witnesses he had expected to use to rebut testimony of Loeb and Leopold relatives. Arguments should be reached by Wednesday and require possibly four days, attorneys said.

COOLIDGE FAMILY OFF ON VACATION

By Associated Press
Plymouth, Vt.—President Coolidge arrived here Saturday morning from Washington for a vacation at his father's home.

With Mrs. Coolidge and their son, the president began his first vacation as chief executive, in the home of his father, where a year ago he took the oath of office. Swinging off the main gravel road leading to this hamlet in their motor trip from Ludlow, the family stopped here first at the little hillside cemetery, where a month ago they buried young Calvin, Jr.

After a brief stop at the grave, they proceeded to the Coolidge home, a half mile up the road where the family was met by John Coolidge, the president's father. They kissed each other as they alighted from the car.

FEWER DROWNINGS IN WISCONSIN THIS YEAR

Madison—Fifty-three persons lost their lives in Wisconsin by drowning during the first six months of the year, the state bureau of vital statistics reported today. This number, however, compares favorably with the casualties for the same period last year when seventy-three persons were drowned. A substantial decrease in deaths from drowning in the state this year is predicted by the division.

June proved the month of greatest casualties this year as last year. Twenty-two persons were lost during June, eighteen during May, six during April, six during March and two during February. Losses for the same months last year follow: June, 43; May, 14; April, 7; March, 2; February, 2. January, 1. Total drownings last year were 184.

The state board of health issued a warning to persons as result of the recent food conditions. "The floods are likely to leave deep holes in stream beds and other dangerous conditions. It is said."

Commander

L. HUGO KELLER

KELLER NAMED COMMANDER OF STATE LEGION

Appleton Man Elected After Sharp Fight at Chippewa Falls Convention

L. Hugo Keller, commander of One Johnson post of the American Legion, attained the highest honors in the Wisconsin department of the legion when he was elected state commander at the closing session of the state convention at Chippewa Falls late Thursday afternoon. The election followed a sharp campaign in which three men competed for the honor. Keller was elected on the first ballot, receiving 181 votes. His nearest opponent was S. L. Plummer, Cadott, who received 116 votes, and LeBarre Harper, Superior, was third with 39 votes. Legionnaires in the western part of the state made a determined effort to elect a western man to head the state department.

Appleton legionnaires started the movement to elect Keller several months ago and had enlisted support all over the state. Mr. Keller never was an avowed candidate for the office but his friends insisted that he permit his name to be presented and they organized a strong campaign for him.

ACTIVE LEGION WORKER
The new state commander has been one of the most active legion workers in Wisconsin since the state department was organized. He was executive committee member for the Ninth district for one term and last year was appointed membership director for the state. In charge of the campaign to enroll every World War veteran in Wisconsin in the legion.

This work took him all over the state and he gave addresses in most of the large cities.

WAS POST ADJUTANT
Keller's first office in One Johnson post was adjutant and he held this until he became a candidate for district attorney when he resigned. He was elected post commander at the last election.

Keller is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Keller and practices law with Turner to place 15, col. 3

MERCHANT SHOTS WOULD BE BANDIT

Man Who Attempted to Rob Store with Companion in Critical Condition

By Associated Press
Superior—Shot down while he and his companion attempted to rob the store, the man who was shot is in a critical condition. The man, who was shot, is in a critical condition. The man, who was shot, is in a critical condition.

Driving up to the store in a sedan, the two alleged bandits who were unmasked, according to Steinbrink, forced open the front door. He said they succeeded in rifling the cash drawer before he discovered them. Drawing up behind the counter Steinbrink seized a .45 calibre revolver and opened fire on the bandits. One of them fell, shot above the heart. Dragging his wounded companion with him, the other man ran to the automobile and sped to Superior.

At St. Mary's hospital here, he informed the attendants of the condition of his companion and disappeared leaving the car which was seized by police.

Shortly before the attempted robbery at the Steinbrink store the Dairyland store four miles east of Markville, Wis., was held up and robbed by unmasked men and $95 was taken. Police advanced the theory that the same pair may have been implicated in both robberies.

JAG STRETCHES VISIT OF BEATRICE TO JAIL

Green Bay—It was all right for Beatrice Crowe, Negro, to pay a visit to her husband, Felix Crowe, who is in the county jail, though failure to raise $200 peace bonds but she should have "fortified" herself beforehand, officers of the sheriff's department think.

When Beatrice applied for permission to visit the jail, the officers said she could hardly navigate. She had no trouble getting in but was very much surprised to find that she couldn't get out.

Beatrice was taken to police court, arraigned on a drunk and disorderly charge and returned to the jail for five days more.

Slay Woman

Sitting at the wheel of an automobile Florence Kinney, 19 (above), saw her sweetheart, Emil Zupke, farm hand and factory worker, kill Cora May Raber, whom Zupke had also promised to marry. After Zupke had strangled the Raber girl to death, Miss Kinney helped remove the body from the car and waited while Zupke hid his victim in thick undergrowth along the road near St. Joseph, Mich.

FATHER REFUSES AID TO SON WHO MURDERED FIANCE
Parent of Girl Who Witnessed Deed Will Mortgage Farm to Engage Defense

Benton Harbor, Mich.—Emil Zupke, confessed slayer of his discarded sweetheart, Cora May Raber, was told Saturday night that he may expect no help from his family. Standing behind the bars of his cell in the Berrien Co. jail, he heard his aged father publicly denounced him and refuse him $5 cents for cigarettes.

White with anger the father accompanied by the youth's brother and sister, came to the jail for the first time since Emil's arrest.

"Get a lawyer for you? We'll get nothing," he said. "You've made your bed; now you can lie in it. We are through with you. Your mother and all of us hope you spend the rest of your life in jail. When your mother and I begged you to give up your bad habits and be our boy again, what did you do? You laughed at us. Now you can suffer for it. Contrasting the denunciation by the elder Zupke were offers of Arthur McKinney, father of Florence McKinney, to provide a defense for the girl held with young Zupke on a murder charge. Counsel has been provided for Miss McKinney, alleged to have driven Zupke's car on the night Miss Raber, expecting to be married to the youth, was driven to her death.

McKinney, it is understood is arranging to mortgage his 40-acre farm to obtain funds with which to fight for his daughter's freedom.

The issue in the campaign, Mr. Frear asserted, is neither partisan nor political, but the overthrow of the influence of big business in governmental affairs. He called Senators La Follette of Wisconsin and Wheeler of Montana, candidates respectively for president and vice president of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, a protest against Mellon, Morgan, a protest against the power of special privilege over the Washington government.

"Teapot Domes are not hills compared with this record of the house of Mellon. It includes tax refunds of over half a billion dollars by the present secretary—all refunded in secret."

Mr. Frear said, "Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader, stated that the senate last may that 90 per cent of all contributions for both Republican and Democratic campaigns were regularly raised in New York City."

Mr. Frear asserted, "In New York City, the country's political administration is thus put up for auction for the houses of Mellon and Morgan to compete with contributions to both parties and appointments and legislative privilege are the prices paid in return. The difference between the houses of Mellon and Morgan is the difference between Tweed and Tweed."

"La Follette and Wheeler are a protest against Mellon and Morgan, a protest against the power of special privilege over the Washington government. Whether elected or defeated they are believed to represent positive ideas, progress in government, improved conditions for labor and even-handed justice for both labor and capital."

They are not the choice of special interests and have no debts nor obligations to cancel after election."

The "Kid" was expected to make Mrs. Mors his tenth wife, she having been divorced from her husband recently.

Coolidge Keynote Speech Significant For Its Omissions

Bad Weather Makes Corn Price Jump

By Associated Press
Chicago—Wild fluctuations in the corn market Saturday resulted from continued unfavorable weather and from adverse crop reports. May corn scored a jump of 5 1/2 cents in some cases touching as high as $1.21 1/2 a bushel compared with $1.16 1/2 at Friday's finish after a net gain Friday of 5 1/2 cents.

Trading was of such an exciting character that simultaneous transactions Saturday morning at different places in the pit were as much as 3 1/2 cents apart. Estimates were current that owing to lack of summer weather this season 20 per cent of the corn crop from Fort Dodge, Ia., to Chicago would never make merchantable corn.

BOB WILL STATE VIEW IN LETTERS

LaFollette Will Not Be Central Figure in Notification Ceremonies

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Although Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin has declined to comment on the acceptance speeches of President Coolidge and John W. Davis, the Democratic presidential nominee, he is likely to have something to say about the issues they discussed even before he delivers his first campaign address.

Unlike his two opponents, Senator LaFollette will not be the central figure of a notification ceremony. He will not take to the stump for several weeks at least but in the meantime, it is indicated he will not be silent.

Shortly the Wisconsin senator intends to make a formal reply to the endorsement given his candidacy by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. It probably will be in the form of a letter to Samuel Gompers, president of the federation. Through letter writing Mr. LaFollette also plans to discuss various campaign issues which he does not propose to go into at length from this speaking platform. It was in this way that he outlined his views of the Ku Klux Klan.

The Republican managers have every reason to be satisfied with the Coolidge speech. It gives a number of slogans for the campaign. It contains no note of radicalism which would make difficult the collection of campaign funds. It pleases the large Republicans and furthest the basis for an appeal to the independent voter who wants the present state of things continued.

POLICE HOLD PARENTS WHEN TOTS DIE IN TRUNK

Chicago—After Pete Dumke, 5 years old, and his cousin, Frank Heick, 12, were found dead in a locked trunk in the Dumke home late Friday, the police temporarily held the parents of both children.

The authorities are inclined to believe that the children were playing with Peter's 3-year-old sister Rose, that they climbed into the trunk as part of a game and that the little girl innocently pulled down the lid and snapped the lock. The mothers of the children are supposed to have gone shopping.

Notification Ceremony Lacked Atmosphere of Political Campaigns of Past, Lawrence Says.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1924 by the Post Pub. Co. Washington, D. C.—The radio and the lengthy text may give an impression of what President Coolidge said in accepting the nomination for the presidency Thursday night, but it was an event which only the few hundred people who actually witnessed it can accurately describe.

For the scene was unique and the ceremony itself wholly unlike anything in political campaigns of the past. In fact there was a constant struggle to change it from the almost formal social function that it was to a rip-roaring political meeting, but it failed. The one lone cheer-leader who decorated himself with a big Coolidge badge and rose to his feet frequently and, waving his arms, frantically tried to coax the audience into demonstration was often the only person on his feet.

This was no sign of a lack of appreciation for President Coolidge. For the audience stood several minutes and clapped hands at the opening and interrupted the speech frequently with the same kind of applause. But it was a dignified assemblage. It did not heat and yell and stamp its feet and cheer to the point of hoarseness. Practically the whole first floor was filled with federal office holders and their friends and they showed their enthusiasm for the president. But the atmosphere of political gatherings was not there. It was simply a Washington function to which most of the dignitaries and their wives came in automobiles.

Outside on the curb where the amplified carried the president's voice there was more of the scene that usually characterizes political meetings.

The whole, however, is characteristic of the Coolidge campaign. It is not to be a boisterous affair. Coolidge himself is a quiet spoken individual who speaks in a monotone and depends rather on the words he utters than the method by which they are delivered. He discards elocution and relies on a careful study of his speeches. He feels that at best a political speaker addresses only a small part of the electorate. The radio and the press reaches the greatest number of voters.

Among the Democrats hereabouts—and there are various national committees and leaders over the country—the Coolidge speech was not considered significant for what was omitted. The name of Warren Harding wasn't mentioned. The Ku Klux Klan issue was not given the space that was given it in the speech of John W. Davis or the letter of Senator LaFollette.

In fact one Democratic national committeeman said he saw in the language used by Mr. Coolidge in one part of his speech about keeping America for Americans and opposing the influx of foreigners an almost exact parallel with one of the cardinal principles of the Klan. The Democrats are filled with the Klan issue and see almost everything in its terms, insisting it will be a far bigger issue locally throughout the campaign than national leaders admit and that before the campaign is over the president's position will have to be stated unequivocally.

The Republican managers have every reason to be satisfied with the Coolidge speech. It gives a number of slogans for the campaign. It contains no note of radicalism which would make difficult the collection of campaign funds. It pleases the large Republicans and furthest the basis for an appeal to the independent voter who wants the present state of things continued.

WOMAN CASTS DOUBT ON M'COY'S GUILT IN DEATH MYSTERY

Tenant Tells of Two Men Who Fled from House Immediately After Shooting

By Associated Press
Los Angeles, Calif.—An entirely new aspect has been given to the Theresa Mors shooting investigation, police announced Saturday, by the testimony of a woman who says she heard and saw two men fleeing from the apartment occupied by Mrs. Mors and Kid McCoy, ex-pugilist, a few minutes after the short was fired that ended the life of the wealthy divorcee early Wednesday morning.

The new witness, police say, lived in the apartment directly under that in which the shooting took place and saw one of the fleeing men so clearly and at such close range that she was able to give detectives a complete description of him.

McCoy Saturday had so far recovered from the shock of his arrest Wednesday on suspicion of murdering Mrs. Theresa Mors, divorced wife of a wealthy antique dealer, that he was preparing to write the customary autobiography excepted of a person of his past prominence and present predicament.

McCoy's contention that Mrs. Mors shot and killed herself despite his efforts to prevent her, received some corroboration at Friday's coroner's inquest, when the county autopsy surgeon testified that the bullet which ended the woman's life appeared to have been fired from a weapon held close to her head.

The bullet entered her left temple. Further the alleged confession of McCoy to his sister, Mrs. Jennie Thomas, that he had "just had to kill that woman" still weighs heavily against his suicide explanation of her death.

The three victims of the Wednesday shooting—William Roes, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Schupp, were all reported recovering rapidly, thought it was not believed they would be able to appear before the grand jury Tuesday.

Mrs. Martin was positive McCoy was not the man she had seen under the window.

"McCoy is tall and stately," she said, "and the man I saw under the window was short and puffy."

A subpoena has been issued for the appearance of Mrs. Martin before the grand jury Tuesday.

DAVIS FINANCE AIDES SEEK CONTRIBUTIONS

Davis, Democratic candidate for president, was engaged at his home here Saturday in the preparation of some of his forthcoming addresses, plans were being laid by those in charge of financing the campaign for a nationwide canvass for funds. Mr. Davis' own idea of the way the campaign should be financed as represented by some of those with whom he had discussed the subject, is to seek small personal contributions from supporters all over the country and it is in accordance with this plan that the fiscal officers are proceeding with the details of their organization.

Aug. 15, 1925 Is Set As Date for Complete Evacuation of Industrial District

M'DONALD DENIES COERCION

Dortmund and Other Territory Held Under Sanction Also Will Be Freed

By Associated Press
London—The French and Germans finally have settled their long controversy over the military evacuation of the Ruhr by an exchange of letters Saturday in which they agree to the principle that Aug. 15 of next year be fixed as the final date when the French and Belgian troops must completely evacuate the Ruhr territory.

They have also agreed that a partial evacuation will begin on Aug. 30 of this year when the foreign soldiers will leave Dortmund and the cities and places outside of the Ruhr which were not occupied in accordance with the terms of the treaty of Versailles.

Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain also is preparing a letter in which he will deny charges that he coerced the Germans into acceptance of the French demand that the Ruhr occupation continue for one year longer. It also is expected that he will issue a statement, expressing the hope that the evacuation may be even speedier than the agreement provides.

The French and Belgian prime ministers made a joint statement declaring it was obvious that the entire Ruhr territory would be evacuated as soon as the French troops left the Ruhr. In other words that the military evacuation would be absolutely complete next Aug. 15.

MACDONALD APPROVES
To this, Mr. MacDonald gave his approval, thus binding the British along with the French and Germans to the absolute fulfillment of the agreement on conditions that the Germans live up to the provisions of the Dawes plan.

Speedy preparations are being made for the plenary session of the international conference Saturday night when the complete membership will be summoned and when the delegates will initiate the agreement as to how the Dawes plan is to be executed. Many of the delegates are planning to leave London Saturday night.

Until the German Reichstag and the French Chamber of Deputies endorse the action of the London conference, it will not be possible to have final signatures to the agreement.

FLIERS REPORT FRESH HINDERANCE

Lieutenant Smith's message was sent via the cruiser Milwaukee and said:

"Schulze (Lieutenant Schulze, advance officer) reports impossible to reach new base today because of ice, wind and ocean currents. Angmagssalik full of ice at present but indications are for improvement. Will leave here as soon as practicable."

Earlier in the week the fliers had hoped to get started on the next lap on Thursday. COUNTY W. C. T. U. ELECTS APPLETON WOMAN PRESIDENT

County Organization Urges Appointment of Law-abiding Officials

At least 50 delegates and as many more visitors attended the annual county convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union, Friday in Brokaw Methodist Episcopal church, Kaukauna. Eight unions are included in the county organization. They are Appleton, Kaukauna, Green Bay, Seymour, Shiocton, Black Creek, Hortonville, and Medina, although all were not represented at the convention.

Mrs. George Eberhart, Appleton was elected president of the union to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mrs. Lucy Pardee. Mrs. Roy Utommark, Seymour, was chosen vice president; Mrs. Cora Reese, Appleton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. S. Bryant Wallace, Seymour, recording secretary; Mrs. Bernice Laird, Black Creek, was re-elected treasurer.

Only those officers who are themselves law-abiding should be appointed to enforce laws, the convention urged in one of the four important resolutions it adopted. Other resolutions declared that the United States is in honor bound to work with other nations for the peace of the world, that every woman should inform herself concerning political candidates and cast her vote without reference to party politics and that the cause of prohibition should be aided if the press would print facts about it.

Memorial services were held for Mrs. Lucy Pardee, Appleton, and Mrs. Isabelle Shauger, Black Creek, who died during the last year. In the evening there was a motion picture, "Let Us Forget," which is a story of the results of liquor before prohibition. Following the picture, a talk was given by Thomas W. Gales, superintendent of the educational department of the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league, in which he urged the women to exercise their right to vote to cast their ballots for men who are known to be "dry."

LAWRENCE-ST WILL BE OPENED TUESDAY

Traffic will be resumed over the Lawrence-st viaduct at Jones park on Tuesday when the barricades will be removed by the city street department. The bumps have been taken out of the road at both ends of the bridge. On the west end it was necessary to tear out a considerable portion of the concrete of the bridge and repave it. On the east end creosote blocks were replaced to level the juncture with the bridge pavement.

APPLETON POLICE WATCH FOR BAD CHECK ARTIST

Appleton police have been asked to cooperate in the search for a bogus check artist who has been active in Janesville and other cities in the southern part of the state. A man signing himself Frank Schreiber issued checks aggregating about $540 on a Janesville bank in part payment for merchandise bought at several stores. It is believed that he started out for Canada and might operate through here. He is described as 25 years old, 6 feet tall, with dark complexion.

APPLETON'S SCHOOL POPULATION GAIN EXCEEDS OSHKOSH

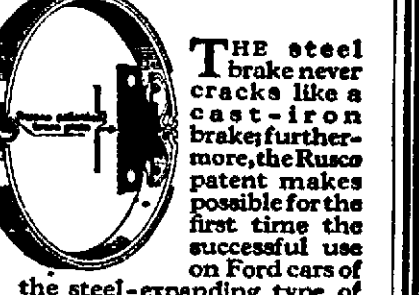

Growth of City Is Revealed in Increase in Number of Children

Appleton's school census showed a gain of nearly 100 more children than the gain realized by the Oshkosh school census. The count made there gives the number of children of school age at 9,836, or 83 more than last year. Appleton's school census revealed a total of 6,208 children, or 182 more than the year previous. The increase is 99 more than that of Oshkosh, although that city seems satisfied with the gain. The increase there is of the same ratio as in previous years. It was announced by the school authorities. Appleton's increase is due partly to the advent of a number of new families from Neenah and Milwaukee. Establishment of a new industry, the Appleton Engraving company, may have helped to increase the total. It is suggested, for practically all of the employees at this plant came here from out of the city.

Mrs. Fred Jents, Miss Martha Jents, Frank Jents, Jr., Miss Gladys Strutz and Charles Hudson visited Waupun friends Friday.

ONLY $152,947 IN GENERAL FUND TO PAY CITY'S BILLS

Council Has Only $30,000 a Month to Spend for Remainder of Year

Departmental revenue for the month ending July 31 amounted to $44,172.84, according to monthly financial report of Fred B. Bachman, city treasurer.

Disbursements for the same period were $172,713.49, which were greater than in any preceding month owing to the triple construction program of Junior high schools, Cherry-st bridge and waterworks extension.

In consequence the balance of $507,218.95 which existed in all funds on June 30 had dwindled to $678,676.34. Of the latter amount, however, $77,355.35 is invested in bonds and endowment funds.

The actual balance in the city general fund from which expenses of city government are paid amounted to $152,947.03. Expenses of bridge construction are paid from a special fund called the bridge fund which had a standing of $31,544.06. The standing of the junior high school fund was $283,674.55 and does not include the $250,000 bond issue recently sold by the city council.

$30,000 A MONTH

For the remaining five months of the year, the council will be restricted to an average expenditure of about $30,000 a month from the general fund. Disbursements from this fund last month totaled $62,562.09.

The largest item of revenue was $24,550.51 for the waterworks fund. Of this amount approximately $8,000 was regular department revenue, while the remainder was a transfer of accumulated surplus. Interest on Junior high school money yielded $16,069.75. Licenses, permits, delinquent taxes, etc., increased the general fund by $4,049.94.

Bridge construction during the month cost the city $14,956.18, construction of the two junior high schools cost $75,392.76, and the waterworks installation cost $11,818.63. The park board spent $503.34.

The city's investments are as follows: Police pension fund, $6,037.65; firemen's pension fund, $19,130.23; library fund, $500; water department investment, $51,717.50. Interest also is received on the regular daily bank balances of the other funds.

Nightshirt Has Not Passed
Out Entirely In Appleton

Daddy can still wear the nightshirt of flannel or cotton he became accustomed to long ago and not be out of style, for local dealers say about 25 per cent of night apparel sold is in the nightshirt style.

Pajamas, which began competition with the nightshirt about fifteen years ago, account for 75 per cent of the sales. Most of the younger men today are wearing pajamas for the bedroom and the variety is the spice of life and pajamas are of flannel, crepe, just plain muslin, or they may be silk. There is more than a rainbow of colors in assortment of pajamas, and green, lavender, blue, yellow, peach and tan all clamor for recognition. A slip over waist doing away with the buttons is the latest development in pajamas.

Mother usually selects nightshirts for daddy, but son will buy his own pajamas. If silk pajamas are purchased it's usually "his sweetie" who is buying them, often as a gift, especially at Christmas time. Men rarely buy silk pajamas for themselves.

Since pajamas came into style there has been a steady increase in sales. Nightshirts however will continue to have their followers and will be demanded for night apparel for a long time. Silk nightshirts are not kept in stock at local shops. They usually are made of plain white muslin material or of plain or striped flannel.

The other masculine stars in the cast are Robert Edson, Sheldon Lewis, Walter Long and Walt Whitman.

The plot revolves around the efforts of the U. S. Secret Service to break up a gang of vicious lounge liars, who are taking advantage of imprudent flappers.

It is said to be a story of tense moments and to contain a lesson for the easy-going modern mother as well as for her headstrong daughter.

Herrick is also known to the silver sheet, having appeared in several of the Leather Pusher series, and also remembered for his bit of excellent realism in "Merry Go Round," where he played the part of "Fate," who spins the wheel of life and toys with the people and their lives, as woven in the story.

USE SAND BLAST
TO CLEAN BUILDING

The Whedon building at the corner of College-ave and Oneida-st is being cleaned by a sand blast process and the men engaged in the work had an interested audience Friday afternoon, despite the rain.

Schroeder and Luaders, the firm which is cleaning the walls, use the process daily to engrave granite, but this is the first time it has been used to clean a building in Appleton, although it is quite common in larger cities.

The Oneida-st College-ave sides of the building are to be cleaned. It will require probably three days to complete the work.

NO MORE TROUBLE
FROM HIGH WATER

Water in Fox river is receding and no further trouble from back water is expected by local manufacturers. One of the sluice gates in the upper government dam and one in the lower were closed Thursday, making three still open in the former and two in the latter dams. About one-fourth of the needles in the middle dam have been replaced.

MR. COOLIDGE'S ACCEPTANCE SPEECH
Mr. Coolidge in the opening of his speech of acceptance said: "The Republican party has been and is today founded upon a great moral principle and directed with scrupulous regard for its integrity." We do not know upon what hypothesis he makes this claim, but it can hardly be in the terms of the "scrupulous direction" represented in the past by Mark Hanna, Platt and Quay, and in more recent times, by Lodge and the "best minds" who took charge of the late lamented Harding administration. Mr. Coolidge loves the Republican party, but we think he is over-zealous in his affection. It is the indulgent parent who can see no fault in this child. The Republican party has much to account for in its shortcomings and its betrayals of trust. We have had a conspicuous example of this at Washington in the last two years, a scandal for which it must, despite anything Mr. Coolidge may say, assume full responsibility. It is not a felicitous time to sing the praises and virtues of his party.
Mr. Coolidge is most concerned about what he describes as the "alarming" condition of the country in 1924, which he paints in vivid colors, and from which we are asked to believe the Republicans have led us to security and well-being. As we are disposed to look at government, the state of the Union was much more serious in 1922 and 1923 than in 1921, although from quite different causes. We think Fall and Daugherty and the influences at work at Washington under which they operated and which in the background were responsible for the kind of government they typified, were more alarming than the fact that in 1921 we were "still technically in a state of war, had no diplomatic relations with Turkey, Greece, Russia, Colombia or Mexico," had a debt of some $24,000,000,000, with government bonds below par, war time taxes still burdening the people, "huge accounts with the railroads still unsettled, transportation crippled, widespread deflation, high interest, banks filled with frozen assets and approximately 5,000,000 people without employment." The evils eating into the vitals of government at Washington were more perilous than the economic burdens exposed.

The outstanding recommendation Mr. Coolidge offers for the Republican party is the high skill with which it has managed the country's finances. Here he is on solid ground. The reduction in the national debt has been large, enormous economies have been effected, appropriations have been subjected to the budget system and taxes twice reduced. This is an achievement that will, we think, compare favorably with anything in our financial history even, to quote the president, "since the days of Hamilton." On the tariff Mr. Coolidge is orthodox to the letter. He is for protection as applied by our Paynes, Aldriches and Fordneys. He has the old pro-war faith in the value of high tariff to all classes—labor, industry and consumer. He even thinks business activity in this country since 1921 is to be attributed principally to the "wise policy" of a protective tariff. He professes this in the face of the fact that agriculture reached its lowest standing in ten years during this period and that its relapse was concurrent with the exact-ment of high tariffs on wheat and other farm produce.

The president dwells forcefully on the Washington conference and the important lead there taken toward a reduction of naval armament. No one will attempt to detract from the credit due the government for this move toward peace. One should, however, read and weigh the speech of Judge Davis to obtain an accurate appraisal of the administration's foreign policy since 1920. It is here we find the picture more faithfully portrayed. Perhaps the most significant statement in Mr. Coolidge's reference to foreign policy is that "I personally should favor entering into covenants for the purpose of outlawing aggressive wars by any practical means." What he says about the League of Nations is merely a justification of the policy of his predecessor and the "best minds." He seems to favor an association of nations much after the indefinite idea of Mr. Harding, but like Harding he is not specific.
Mr. Coolidge's address contains many patriotic epigrams. It is thoroughly American in tone and appeals to our best instincts as citizens and lovers of our country. "The American government must," he says, "be clean." One of his best expressions is: "We believe in the law of service, which teaches us that we can improve ourselves only by helping others." Another is: "We cannot live unto ourselves alone", and "The foreign policy of America can be described by one word—Peace." Still another is his reference to agriculture: "I want to see the dollar of the farmer always purchase as much as any other dollar." And finally this excellent observation: "They (the people) want a chance to work out their material and spiritual salvation. The people want a government of common sense."
We think the reaction to Mr. Coolidge's message will be favorable. Many persons will be inclined "to take the word for the deed." They may feel that he has no genuine leadership of the Republican party, as was demonstrated in the last session of congress, and they may feel that his standards of national policy are determined by conditions of ten or twenty years ago rather than by those of the day, but they will believe in his personal integrity and his high purposes to serve the country to the best of his ability.

His acceptance address will not measure up to that of his principal opponent either as a state document or as a faithful analysis of political conditions and problems, nor does it define, in our judgment, policies that are as progressive. It is the beginning of a most interesting campaign and one in which the personalities of the candidates will count for much.

TODAY'S POEM
By HAL COCHRAN

WHEN MOTHER BAKES
THERE'S an odor in the kitchen on the day that mother bakes, one that makes a person's appetite grow keen. And it doesn't really matter if it's cookies, pies or cake, it attracts a flock of youngsters to the scene.
At the door you'll find them standing and their eyes are opened wide as they watch a cookie cutter working fast. Tommy Jones, the next-door neighbor, with his sister at his side, edges closer to the baker, quite aghast.
"Just imagine," whispers Tommy, as the cookie pans are filled: "how'd ya like to have those cookies all your own?" Then the oven door is opened and his little sister's thrilled—"Gee, I betcha I could eat 'em all alone."
Other youngsters join the watchers and they push and fight for place. There's a ray of hope in each and every one. It's a treat for Missus Baker as she eyes each little face, waiting, watching for the baking to be done.
Once again the oven's opened and the cookie pan comes out. You can see the looks of expectation play. Every watcher gets a cookie and there comes a mighty shout as the kids yell "thanks" and quickly run away.

THE RIGHT SALT RATION
Does too much salt in or on food do any harm? How much salt should one take daily? Why do doctors sometimes caution patients against the use of salt?
A certain amount of salt must be supplied as food for all but strictly carnivorous animals that suck the blood as well as eat the flesh and bones of their prey. But from habit we human civilized beings consume considerably more salt than is physiologically necessary. Perhaps less than half a teaspoonful is sufficient for a day; the average salt ration is nearer to two or three teaspoonsful daily.
Herbivorous animals and man taking a mixed diet, largely vegetable, crave and need more salt than carnivorous animals. Men living principally upon meats or other animal foods do not crave salt. The element potassium is present in vegetables, fruits and cereals in greater amount than the element sodium, and the potassium salts react with the sodium salts in the blood, forming new and foreign salts which are eliminated, and that move enough sodium from the blood to create the demand for more sodium chloride, which is salt.
When an excess of salt is taken in or on food an edematous or dropsical or water logged state of the tissues is likely to develop, for the salt retains too much water in the tissues and in the blood. In certain pathological conditions of edema or dropsy and inflammation associated with a boggy swelling of the tissues, a restriction of the salt intake, by means of a salt poor or salt free diet, helps to overcome the trouble. It requires from two to six weeks to note the benefit.
Persons inclined to have swollen ankles or puffiness about the feet late in the day may well consider whether they are consuming more salt than is wholesome.
Certain tempting abominations like the ubiquitous hot dog, and certain supplementary delicacies like pretzels, salted nuts, ham and eggs, furnish palatable excuses for consuming huge quantities of salt. The bouillon cubes are chiefly salt with a flavoring of beef, and most of the liquid or concentrated beef preparations are highly salted. Sea fish and shellfish are naturally salted, and further salt is added to the canned, smoked, dried or pickled products. Anchovy paste is 40 per cent salt. Brick cheese is 10 per cent salt. Caviar is 6 per cent salt. Smoked salmon is 10 per cent salt. Sardines in oil contain 1.34 per cent salt. Oysters are 0.5 per cent salt. Veal, 0.13 per cent; beef, 0.11 per cent; fresh pork, 0.11 per cent; mutton, 0.14 per cent; chicken, 0.14 per cent.
For a salt poor diet let the cook omit salt from the bread and from the meat and from the vegetables. Ordinary bread contains 0.7 per cent salt, and the usual addition in making bread brings this up to 0.10 per cent. Fresh water fish contain little salt. Fresh eggs may be taken without salt addition. Butter may be used unsalted. Fresh cream may be used freely. Swiss cheese is less salty than domestic cheeses. English cream cheese is least salty of all. Green peas, carrots, leeks, endive, lettuce, French bean, celery and various salads may be taken. Raw or cooked fruit has very little salt in it. Chocolate, tea or coffee contain practically no salt.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Typhoid Prophylactic
Would you advise persons not expecting to travel to be inoculated for typhoid? (J. W.)
Answer.—Yes, if typhoid prevailed anywhere in the vicinity of your home. It isn't inoculation however. It is immunization against typhoid fever by means of three doses of measured numbers of the killed bacteria of typhoid. It proved its value by practically eliminating the scourge of typhoid fever from the millions of men in the army during the great war.
Vinegar
Please advise whether vinegar on food takes the caloric value of the food away such as in pickles. (M. P.)
Answer.—No. Vinegar itself has no caloric value, being rather a poison and not utilized by the body. But it does not diminish the food value of anything upon which or with which it may be taken.

DEAR MR. DAVIS:—YOUR INVITATION TO BATTLE IS CORDIALLY ACCEPTED

Real Causes Of Divorces Are Puzzle

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
Washington, D. C.—Continued agitation of the divorce problem back of which is the movement for uniform marriage and divorce laws, is developing the fact that there is no substantial agreement among experts as to the real causes of the domestic infelicity that leads to the divorce court. There is practically no consensus of opinion among the lawyers, judges, psychologists, psychiatrists, sociologists and other students who, presumably, should know why the matrimonial bark is wrecked so frequently.
However, it is generally conceded that it is difficult if not impossible to cure an ill or remedy an evil if its causes are not known. If divorce is increasing at such a rate as to be a social ill or evil, it has been suggested that some sort of national clinic be held in which it will be studied scientifically. Let the experts get together, compare notes, make common observations and endeavor to arrive at conclusions that will be sound and helpful to congress and to the legislatures of the several states in their consideration of the question as to what should be done.
Official opinions as to the reasons for the prevalence of divorce are almost all inclusive. They embrace everything from the increasing cost of living to a decreasing religious spirit and regard for the law of God. The movies are blamed by some people and the World War by others, while t. o. jazz music and dance craze are also ascribed a share of the responsibility.
Strangely enough, perhaps, prohibition is blamed by some observers and commentators. They say that the effect to abolish drinking by constitutional amendment and statute has brought about disregard for and respect of all law, tending to promiscuity in sex relations and leading to laxity in the observance of marital obligations, and at the same time has increased drunkenness among both men and women to a degree that it is inevitable that the road to divorce should become a well worn trail. Formerly it was held that the saloon was the ante-chamber to the divorce court and it seems somewhat paradoxical that the abolition of the saloon should now be held responsible in large degree for the very evil that institution was formerly supposed to aggravate.
Another authority who gives common rather than fundamental causes says that divorces are due to poverty, women wanting what they cannot have, neglect of wives by their husbands, nagging, drink, low mentality and sexual mismanagement.
Still another expert regards physical misanthropy and sexual degeneracy as the prime causes, and still another says that in most divorce actions if you want to get at the bottom of the trouble you should look for the other woman or the other man, as the case may be.
A frequent if not a fundamental cause of divorce that has been observed is the meddling of relatives—mothers-in-law, and fathers-in-law and all the others-in-law, and hasty and ill-considered marriages are found to result more often in discord than in happiness.

Adventures In The Library

SHORT-STORY WRITERS TURNED NOVELISTS
It is true to say that the technique of the short story and the technique of the novel are radically different. Anyone who has ever tried his hand at fiction writing knows this. There is many a novelist who could not write a short story to save his life, and there is many a short-story writer who could not achieve a novel if salvation depended on it.
O. Henry was one of the best examples of the latter. A master in the very short short-story, he was helpless in the longer fiction and he had the good sense to stick to his last. There are on the other hand a number of novelists who have never published a short story and the fact that they haven't published one is fairly good proof that they can't. They have probably tried and have given it up, contenting themselves with the longer fiction form.
But the short-story writers usually of women, is generally recognized as one of the reasons why there are more divorces, although it may not be termed a cause of divorce. Not all women but a rapidly increasing proportion of them approach matrimony nowadays knowing that it will not necessarily commit them to a life sentence if it should result in unhappiness, misery or any unendurable conditions. They know how to take care of themselves in an economic way and if husbands fail them in any essential degree they are not afraid to tackle the world by themselves.
Miss Hurst wrote a futility as "Star Dust." It was back of it the name of a short-story writer, admired by millions and it achieved an adventurous fame because of it. But it could not be called a significant novel in any sense of the term even though the publishers, as their habit is, called it the "best thing" Fannie Hurst had ever done. That was nonsense and the book might as well be forgotten.
That Fannie Hurst was not satisfied with it herself is shown by her next novel, "Lummen," the study of a servant girl in New York. This book seems to show that Fannie Hurst has "arrived" as a novelist and has conquered her short-story nature.
Edna Ferber tried the novel much earlier in the game, almost as soon as she started to write. But she could not make a go of it, while in the short-story she won a large following. Her short stories were not as significant as Fannie Hurst's but they were enormously popular. Much of her early work is highly sentimentalized and cannot be taken very seriously. She might have gone on manufacturing that sort of thing, earning more and more money as the years passed. But fortunately she didn't.
She has a literary conscience and from time to time she turned out a short-story that was not cast in the familiar Emma McChesney mould but that was a sincere attempt at the interpretation of life. And in the novel she has progressively gone in that same direction, namely upward artistically. She published several novels that will never set the world afire and then a year or two ago came "The Girls." This was a book that marked Edna Ferber's arrival as a novelist. There are still flashes of the short-story technique in it as there are in "So Big," her latest novel, but it is real work honestly done. "The Girls" seems to me her best work in spite of the accident with which "So Big" has been greeted.
Much may be expected of both Fannie Hurst and Edna Ferber as novelists. They are on the straight road at last.

Baby's Health

CHILDREN'S BUREAU, U. S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

GIVING THE BATH
Before beginning, the mother should wash her own hands clean and see that there are no pins or needles in her clothing to scratch the baby. The room should be comfortably warmed—to about 75 degrees—for a young baby. It is not wise to have it so hot that the baby perspires, as there is then grave danger of his being chilled when taken into another room where the temperature is lower or when the room itself is rapidly cooled.

Before the baby is completely undressed his face and scalp should be washed. Wash the face with a small soft cloth kept for this purpose then lay the baby on his back in the mother's lap. It is usually more convenient to have his head to the right and slightly lowered. Rub a little soap on the cloth and wring it out of the warm water, so as to make a suds. Lather the baby's head completely and quickly and rinse several times in clean warm water, all without raising the head. Rub lightly and dry quickly. By this process the head is easily washed without running any risk of getting a drop of soap into the sensitive eyes. The baby is then turned about so that the mother may more conveniently use her right hand for the rest of the bath. Next, remove the remainder of the clothing and go over the entire body with the soapy wash cloth; then place the baby in the bath, holding him with the left forearm under the neck and shoulders, the hand under his arm, lifting the feet and legs with the right hand. Use the right hand to sponge the entire body, then lift him out and wrap him at once in a warm towel. Dry carefully with soft warm towels, patting the skin gently. Never rub the baby's tender skin with anything less smooth than the palm of the hand. Dress him as rapidly as possible if the weather is cold, taking great pains not to expose him unnecessarily.

If the skin is carefully dried after the bath there will be little need for powder. It is well to use a little pure talcum powder in the creases and folds of the skin, under the arms, and around the buttocks, but it should not be used so generally as to fill the pores of the skin and clog them and should be applied only after the skin is dry.

For one reason or another a baby sometimes objects to his bath. In such cases judicious coaxing may be employed. Toys which float will often divert the baby's attention and make him forget his objections to the water. Sometimes lowering him into the water wrapped in a towel or covering the top of the tub with a cloth, so that he can not see the water, will accomplish the result. If his dislike has been caused by having been put at some previous time into the bath which was too hot or too cool let him dabble in the water first with his hands and feet until he is reassured. Sometimes the baby will cease his objections to the bath if his face is not washed until after the tub bath is over. This baby should be induced to the desired action by pleasant means which do not upset his sensitive nervous system. Force of harshness is worse than useless in this as well as in other matters in the training of the baby.

Cool Bath—The temperature of the bath may be gradually lowered until it is down to 96 degrees for a baby of six months and 90 or even 80 degrees for one of 1 year of age. Toward the end of the second year a robust baby must be given a cool sponge, but he should never be frightened or chilled in administering this wholesome treatment. He should be gradually accustomed to it by being allowed to stand in his tub at the end of his daily bath with his feet in the warm water, while a sponge of cooler water is squeezed over the throat and chest. The water may be made colder by degrees until he is taking it quite cool and enjoying it. He must be rubbed quickly and thoroughly, at once until the skin is red and glowing.

After a cool bath the child should always have a vigorous exercise for a few minutes in order to promote the necessary reaction.

THE CHURCH AT WAR—NATIONS DIVIDED

millions now living will never die

Should the persistent failure to bring peace and the collapse of nations fill us with despair?

And now Christianity develops a rift. Modernists destroy faith in the Bible; the Fundamentalists hold for unquestioned acceptance of creeds.

In what product of man's wisdom can we take refuge?

Every one of his schemes has resulted in dismal failure. Must people abandon hope?

The world's future is involved in present perplexities.

These conditions, foretold in the Bible, when rightly understood unfold the Creator's beneficent designs for man's happiness on earth.

This Subject Will Be Ably and Intelligently Presented by

Mr. J. H. Hoeveler

Mr. Hoeveler has just recently returned from an extended tour in Europe, and will tell us something of existing conditions there.

MAXWELL Initiates a New Order

The public in general probably has no adequate realization of the great advances which have recently been made in motor car engineering.

It is a fact that the good Maxwell, together with the Chrysler Six, has literally accomplished a revolution in motor car results.

If you have not familiarized yourself with the good Maxwell since Chrysler engineers began their work with it, you cannot begin to appreciate what it means to thorough satisfaction and economical, care-free motoring.

Its engineering design and its fine materials are directly responsible for the statements of owners that the good Maxwell now costs less to maintain than any car they have ever known.

When you ride in the good Maxwell, be prepared for a quietness and a smoothness that you probably never expected from a four-cylinder engine.

One reason why you don't feel any trace of vibration when you ride behind the Maxwell motor, is the fact that the reciprocating parts of the engine are balanced to the fraction of an ounce.

Another reason is a floating platform spring mounting under the front end of the motor—a wonderfully effective device which is exclusive to Maxwell.

Owners will tell you that gasoline economy generally averages 24 miles to the gallon.

With this economy is coupled performance that would be gratifying in a car of far greater cost and power.

You accelerate from 5 to 25 miles an hour in eight seconds, when you drive a good Maxwell.

Its engine, with displacement only a fraction over 185 cubic inches, develops power that will take you anywhere a car can go—and some places where some cars cannot go.

The car is a revelation in ease of steering. Its ease of riding is equally remarkable.

The spring suspension is one reason for this. The noticeable absence of motor vibration is another.

If you really want to know how far four-cylinder engineering practice has advanced—take a ride in the good Maxwell. Nothing else can give you a full realization of the new order of things which the good Maxwell has initiated.

Touring Car, $895; Sport Touring, $1055; Roadster, $885; Club Coupe, $1025; Club Sedan, $1095; Sedan, $1325. All prices f.o.b. Detroit subject to current Government Tax.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Maxwell's attractive plan.

No Exaggerated Styles In Autumn Footgear

New York.—You might as well start in now and wear out all your pumps with the fancy openwork sections and the designs in fancy leather.

For style authorities say we are going to revert to the plainest of shoe styles, and that the oxford, long despised, is to be with us again.

This may be part of the propaganda to force gowns to be more elaborate. Recently we have worn fancy shoes, largely because dresses were so very plain and simple. And elaboration could only come in the footwear because hats and dresses would have none of it.

MORE SUBDUED

With elaborate gowns, however, footwear must be subdued. Therefore for fall we find the tailored strapped or buttoned oxford of kid for wear with tailored costumes and the opera, colonial, or the one-strap pump for dress wear.

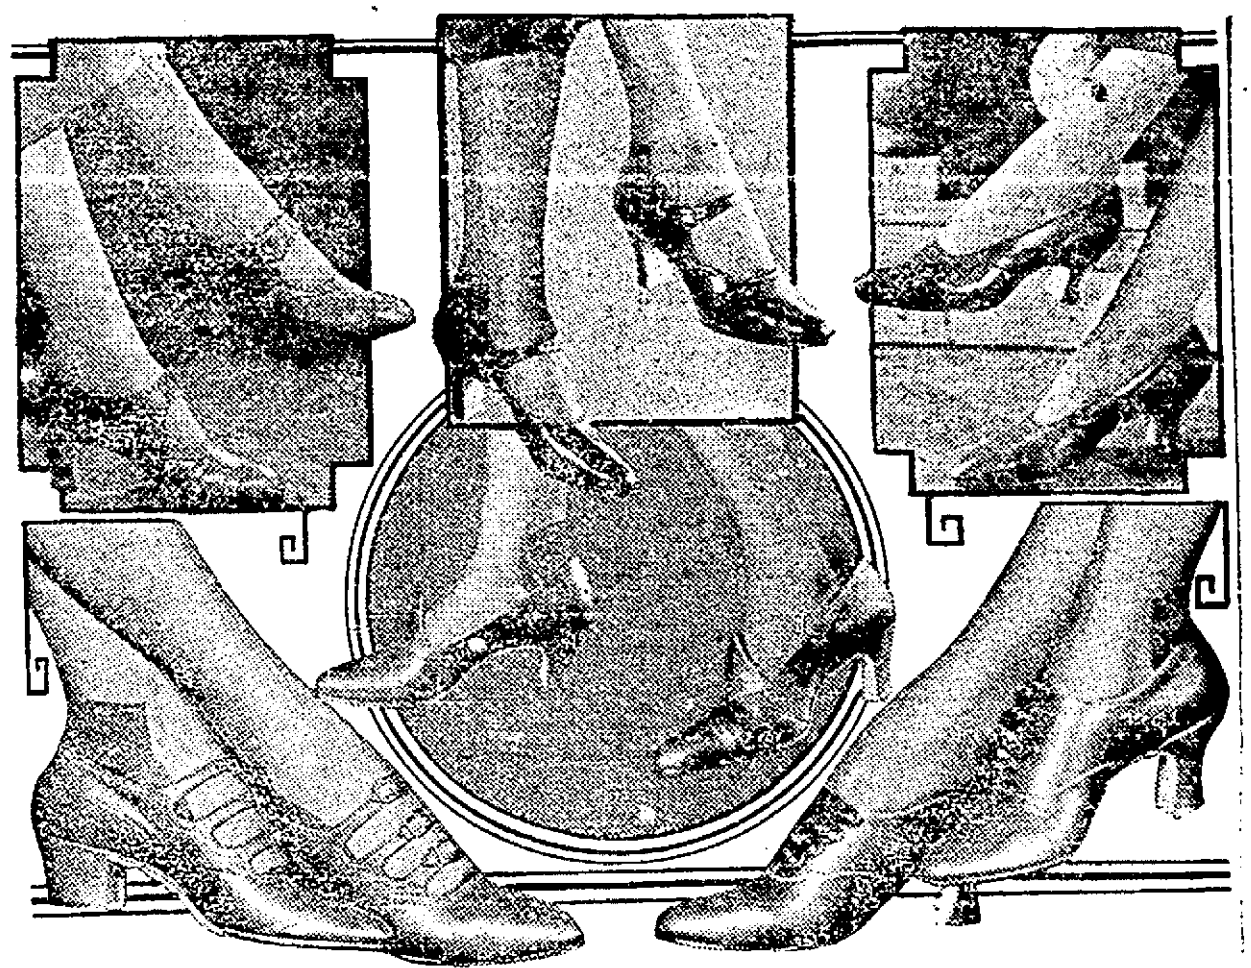

Suede is said to be less fashionable than it has been, patent leather is holding its own, but soft kid is coming to the front as the most popular leather. It is liked not only in brown and black, but in bronze and the beige tones.

With plainer pumps there is also to be a return to more conservative hosiery. The burnt orange and flesh tints that have been so common will give way to gray metal, brown and very sheer black.

NO EXAGGERATION

The vamp is neither long nor short. The whole idea is to keep the foot in proportion to the body. Heels on oxfords may be low or a modified Spanish, and those on pumps may be low or French, but there are no exaggerated high heels, or extremely curved ones.

Shoe dealers are going to inaugurate a campaign for appropriateness in shoes. They hope to impress upon women the desirability of keeping satin and fabric models strictly for evening or dress wear and to make kid or patent leather the only correct thing for street.

FANCY SHOES ARE GOING OUT OF STYLE. HERE ARE SOME OF THE PLAINER VARIETIES WHICH ARE COMING BACK TO FAVOR

Rouge With Thought Of Good Light

Most women have had the experience of having carefully powdered, rouged, lip-sticked, and dressed to their satisfaction at home—only to discover that crystal lights of the restaurant, or wherever they found themselves later in the evening, have given them a ghastly and unbecoming hue instead of the soft flush seen by their rose-tinted boudoir lamp.

Such an occurrence as this can nearly always be averted. If you are going out into the daylight, it is a simple matter to make up by the window—and then there will be no guess work as to how you will look when you get outside.

WARE ROSE-COLORED LIGHTS

Similarly, it may be more flattering to dress by rose-colored lights, but if you are going to where there are no shaded lamps, the thing to do is to turn out your boudoir lamp and make up by an ordinary overhead light—if you would look well the rest of the evening.

More rouge is needed at night under bright electric lights than in the day time. The shade of your rouge will depend largely on your costume, but it is surprising the various effects that may be obtained from one rouge when used with different shades of powder.

In New York now rouge with an orange tone is equally popular for day and night wear. It is very saucy, very intriguing, and offers a chance for daring evening effects, when the eyebrow pencil and lipstick are skillfully applied. In the daytime, however, a very different effect of natural glow can be given, with this same rouge toned down with rachel or a tannish powder like the peach shade to harmonize with the skin.

LIGHTER POWDER AFTER SIX

In general one should use a lighter powder in the evening than in the day time. A woman who likes peach shade or peaches and cream powder for day time outdoor wear may find that rachel suits her better for evening, and the blonde with the delicate skin who uses the natural flesh shade may discover that she needs to lighten this to get the effect of delicate transparency "after six."

How This Woman Got Strength

Put Up 300 Quarts Fruit, 500 Glasses Jelly and Took Care of Four Children

Norwalk, Ia.—"I have been meaning for some time to write and tell you how much good your medicine has done me.

When I started to take it I was almost bed fast and would have been in bed all the time if I had had any one to care for my children. There was so much swelling and pain that I could hardly take a step. I took seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and found that so healing. I am not entirely well yet for I was in bad shape when I started your medicine, but I am so much better that I am not afraid to recommend it, and I think if I keep on taking it, it will cure me. I have done my work all alone this summer, caring for four children, and I canned 300 quarts of fruit and made 500 glasses of jelly, so you see I must be better. I feel pretty good all the time and I am glad to tell others about the medicine."

Mrs. C. J. WENNER-MARK, Box 141, Norwalk, Iowa.

Household Suggestions

CONCEALED SHELVES

Kitchen shelves that are not enclosed in a cupboard may be screened from view by a roller curtain which matches the wall paper or painted finish in the kitchen.

DIVIDE KITCHEN DRAWER

If you divide the drawer of your kitchen table into several sections of different size to accommodate the different sizes of spoons, knives and kitchen knives, you can find what you want quicker and have a neater looking drawer.

TAKES AWAY ODOR

To deodorize gasoline for cleaning purposes add five or six drops of oil of sassafras to each quart of gasoline.

OBVIATES NOISE

Metal or rubber silencers on the bottoms of your chairs and heavy furniture will make them move much more easily with considerably less noise.

HELPS FLOWERS

A little salt and a little soda added to the water in which you keep cut flowers will prolong their lives.

Healthy Skin Needs Care And A Little Rouge

Take a pad of absorbent cotton, wring it out in cold water and then dip it in the astringent; add the cleansing cream to the cotton and apply it to your face lightly and smoothly — no force! Easy circular strokes upward, beginning at the chin and working up to correct the sagging tendency of the muscles—never downward. Cover your face and neck gently with the film, and then remove with the cleansing tissues. Then put on the tonic, gently and briskly, until you feel as refreshed as if you had felt the summer rain on your face. This leaves a nice foundation for the make-up.

Just at bedtime you may use a special cream for restricting the pores, to be spread over the nose and chin; after the bath you will find another delicately scented cream available for smoothing and softening. There is also, a very nourishing oil that is quite wonderful for correcting the lines of fatigue and crow's feet around your eyes.

And now that the health of the skin is looked after you will find it advisable not to overlook the bit of make-up. There is a delicious liquid powder which is mildly antiseptic and opposes a smooth velvety surface to the attacks of winds and sun—an excellent thing for the motorists! Before you put on your dance frock, too, it will give a lovely look to your arms and shoulders. Then comes a liquid water-proof rouge, so that you won't be all-of-a-sudden pale in the middle of a dinner or bridge game. Liquid rouge, incidentally, is much better for a dry skin than is the dry, which tends to wrinkle. A touch to the lips, and a dust of powder, delicate of tint and texture, and you are quite ready for the world. And when you are making up you would be quite wise to remember that the smartest people are being moderate, very moderate indeed, in regard to color.

FOUR MEN TAKEN IN COURT TO FACE VAGRANCY CHARGE

Quartet Arrested in Barn Must Go to Work to Escape
Workhouse

The first vagrants to be arrested in this city in some years presented themselves before Judge Fred V. Heinemann, acting municipal judge, Saturday morning to answer the charge of lodging in sheds and barns without any visible means of support. All four of the men taken into court were Appleton men and gave their names and addresses as follows: Jim Keogh, 523 College-ave; Tony Felzer, 1052 Alvin-st; Jens Nelson, 700 Pacific-st; Edward Gressenz, 936 Oneida-st. All but Keogh, a cripple, were quite young. A summons for the police patrol was received at 2 o'clock Saturday morning to remove the quartet from the barn of Frank Engel, 774 State-st. Felzer was the only one that claimed employment. He said he worked at a theater and began work at 3 o'clock every morning. Gressenz said he had no work and didn't want to be a burden to his father, hence he chose this kind of lodging. Keogh maintained that Engel had given him permission to stay in the barn and therefore brought his friends. Engel denied having given them permission. Judge Heinemann sentenced all four to 10 days in the workhouse and thereupon suspended sentence pending their good behavior.

$11,500,000 LOSS CAUSED BY 3,585 FIRES LAST YEAR

Fire Marshal's Office Investigated 200 "Suspicious"
Fires During Year

By Associated Press
Madison—Fires reported to the state fire marshal's office during the calendar year 1923 caused total losses estimated at $11,516,905, according to a summary of fire losses issued today by W. Stanley Smith, state insurance commissioner. A total of 3,585 fires were reported. More than 20 fires reported to the department were investigated by the division as being of "suspicious" origin. The amount of insurance carried on buildings and contents damaged by fire totaled $32,375,530, the report declares. It is pointed out that the amount of insurance carried on buildings damaged exceeded by more than twenty million dollars the estimated losses. Fourteen persons were convicted of arson, two were committed to insane asylums, one escaped and four were bound over and are awaiting trial as result of investigations of the department. It is stated. Five deputy fire marshals are maintained over the state to assist in reporting and investigating fires. They are: C. J. Good, Ashland; G. H. Kil and, Madison; W. A. Greenwald, Green Bay; Bord C. Ladd, Eau Claire; and Conrad F. Asmuth, Milwaukee.

DO YOU KNOW HOW TO WASH YOUR SWEATER?

Perhaps you are sending your sweaters to the cleaners when they become soiled. It may be that you don't realize that they can be laundered at home. Nowadays when sweaters are so much in vogue that everyone owns two or three, it is practical economy to do this work yourself. Both silk and woolen sweaters can be washed successfully but the work must be done carefully and directions followed closely. Government experts have made an exhaustive study of every problem of the laundry and have worked out with great care the proper methods to use in washing silks, woolens, cottons and linens. The result of their work is contained in a free Government publication which our Washington Information Bureau will secure for any of our readers. CIVILIZATION KEY SOUGHT IN RUINS OF MAYA COUNTRY

Opening Chapters of Human Record Will Be Rewritten
by Discoveries

Chichen-Itza, Yucatan.—The walls of history totter as American archaeology digs in the Maya ruins of Yucatan. For, when the Maya mystery is solved, the whole structure of civilization's story may crash to earth. Then, in the light of truth reclaimed from the shadowy past, the opening chapters of the human record will be re-written. No less a hope has guided science to Chichen-Itza. Here, experts of the Carnegie Institution are concentrating for the first large-scale excavations in the entire Maya region. At its height, the capital of the "holy and learned Itzaes" occupied an area of ten square miles. The builders of its massive temples and palaces followed an art second only to that of Greece. The jungle was beaten back from the ancient city in the days of the Spanish Conquest. Dominated by a majestic pyramid there emerged

MINISTER TAKES DOLLAR AS PAY FOR ACCIDENT

Settlement was made for $1 by a Dale clergyman and a Chicago tourist at the Appleton police station Friday following an automobile collision between the two parties on highway 47 near Brewster-st. The Rev. Mr. Miller, Route 1, Dale, was driving his car south on the state highway and desired to make a left turn on to Brewster-st. In doing so the car was struck on the left side by a car driven by Alfred Schubert, 4811 Grand-ave, Chicago. The tourist wished to pass on the left. In the crash that resulted a wheel of the Dale car was broken off. Responsibility for the accident was disputed at the police station, the tourist maintaining that the clergyman failed to signal the turn with his hand, the other disapproving passing an automobile on the left and especially at an intersection. The minister finally agreed to accept $1 for the broken wheel.

COUNTY RECEIVES $9,000 STATE AID

Two checks representing state aid to Outagamie-co were received Saturday by Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, county treasurer, from Solomon Levi, state treasurer. One of the checks was for $553.53 and constituted the apportionment due from the state for the support of the Outagamie Rural Normal school at Kaukauna. The state had previously granted $5,000 for nine months school sessions and summer school. The added amount is to support the extra month of school, since the term consisted of ten months plus the summer school session. A check for $8,456.64 also was received to apply on the state appropriation for maintenance work on state patrolled roads. The total amount available this year is approximately $45,000.

FIFTH TRAFFIC COUNT WILL BE MADE SUNDAY

Another traffic census will be conducted by the county highway department on Sunday. This will be the fifth traffic count of the season, and will be taken as usual at Kimberly station on the Little Chute-rd. Previous counts taken this year indicate heavier travel than last year.

Open Cars of Like Size and Power—$2175
YES—Paige Brougham costs hundreds less than many open cars of the same or smaller size and power! Just think what Paige gives for $2175. Enclosed comfort, performance, appearance, long life that you cannot duplicate in any other enclosed car unless you pay much more! The new Paige Brougham costs only $280 more than an open Paige!
The lines of this New Paige 4-Door Brougham are long, clean, graceful. The body is colorfully finished in maroon—with ebony black fenders and radiator—and black fine-grain leather finish on rear and trunk. Deeply cushioned seats are richly upholstered in gray mohair.
The big 70 h.p. Paige motor is a perfected six—giving perfect balance, smoothness, simplicity. More cylinders would only add useless parts! You can take hills in high where most shift or stall. Or crawl smoothly along at 2 miles an hour in high. Paige has more than ample power for its job.
That means long motor life. Why pay the same price for a smaller car with far less power—less ability? You'll marvel at Paige's riding comfort! That's the advantage of 131-inch wheelbase, rear springs more than 5 feet long, and snubbers front and rear. Try to find such comfort in other cars anywhere near Paige's price!

COUZENS PROMISES TO BLOW LID OFF TREASURY SCANDAL

Michigan Senator Determined to Go Ahead with Mellon Investigation

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington—Senator Couzens' investigation, scheduled to begin here
Sept. 2, into the Treasury Department—especially into the department's income tax division and prohibition unit—will be denounced by the Washington administration's supporters as pure politics, inspired jointly by the Democratic and Progressive groups "to damage
the Republicans in the pending campaign."

STEWART.

By the days it will be denounced with equal bitterness as an attempt to discredit prohibition, on the wet's part.

However, there seems to be no way
of stopping it.
Senator Couzens of Michigan, Jones of New Mexico and King of Utah were given the necessary authority, before the Senate adjourned last June, to go ahead.

The tenacity with which Senator Couzens has hung to the idea of Couzens turning the Treasury Department inside out, despite the almost insuperable obstacles which have been thrown in his way, leaves no reason to doubt he will stay with it, now that he has the machinery of the inquiry under his own control.

In administration circles it is questioned if Senator Watson of Indiana served his party a good turn by resigning the committee chairmanship when he found Couzens impossible to head off.

It is conceded, however, that the Hoosier lawmaker did everything in his power, backed by President Cool-idge's own protest, and when, followed by Senator Ernst of Kentucky, he quit, the plan appears to have been cut the inquisitorial body down to a group which could be accused of motives of pure partisanship in whatever further steps might be taken.

At any rate Couzens, an insurgent Republican, and Jones and King, both Democrats, have an entirely free hand now.

Couzens, indeed, has a campaign for reelection hampering him at present, but even if beaten, he still will have time to put the investigation through, and the consideration is one,
according to his friends, which he puts ahead of another Senate term.

If the committee succeeds in substantiating only a fraction of the charges which have been made against both the income tax and prohibition administrations, it is agreed among officials that the scandal will throw all previous investigations completely into the shade.

Couzens is understood to have obtained much ammunition relative to the prospective prohibition inquiry from Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, and from this it is conjectured that Pinchot and probably other state executives will be called on to relate their experiences in handling the law.

The investigation, in fact, to a considerable extent will be shaped as it progresses, as have the other inquiries, and the questioning leading into another—whether, or how far, nobody exactly knows.

The lawyer to conduct the examination—for this committee is to have legal advice in all it does—may not be chosen until the investigators meet here in September. Francis J.
Hency was Couzens' original choice and he may still be the committee's selection. It has not, however, definitely been made.

MAY INCREASE SALARY OF UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Madison—A substantial increase in the salary of president of the state university is in prospect with the university regents considering a successor to President E. A. Birge. It was learned here today. The committee of regents on a president is meeting here Saturday to consider preliminary details for selecting a new head.
Inquiries made thus far have shown that the board cannot obtain the desired leader at the present salary of the president, $10,000, a regent said. Presidents of several other western and middle western universities have been suggested for the post but all are receiving higher salaries than is paid at Wisconsin, according to advance information.

More than a score of educators
have been suggested to the presidential committee for consideration. It was said. Several have come from alumni in New York, Chicago and other large cities.

NOTICE!

LUMBER ORDERS NOW
EXCEED PRODUCTION

Big Improvement in Market Is Noted in Last Few Weeks

Reports from all important lumber producing and consuming centers to
the American Lumberman, Chicago,
show a decided upward turn in demand and prices. Returns from the larger commercial sawmills presenting comparable statistics that during the week ended Aug. 2 shipments
were 113 and orders 120 per cent of actual production. Orders received
by West Coast Lumbermen's Association mills exceeded production by 25
per cent; those received by the mills
of the Southern Pine Association
were 33.50 per cent greater than their
output.
Lumbermen have every reason for expecting an increasingly large demand, for reports from the grain
states show large reductions in loans
and rapidly mounting bank deposits,
while building permits issued in 328
cities during the first six months of 1924 exceeded the total for the corresponding week of 1923 by 8 per cent.
Reports from the South are that
heavy shipments are depleting mill
stocks, so that it becomes increasingly difficult to fill mixed orders. Stocks
at the west coast as of Aug. 1, according to a survey of 135 stock-carrying mills, have seldom been as light since
that producing region achieved primary importance in the lumber market.

Softwood prices, in view of the expanding demand, naturally tend upward. Prices of southern pine has declined by June to 15 per cent below
the level of June, 1923, so that many small operators were forced to close down, and others to curtail. And the returns realized by West Coast mills
had sunk to a point where shut-
downs were necessary to avoid loss.
Producers everywhere are conservative as regards output, and they refuse to book ahead while the market
shows signs of a great strengthening.
Hardwoods, in view of the gradual
revival of interest in their purchase
by industrial consumers, are taking on firmness. Automobile body plants
are preparing for fuller operations,
while enlarged schedules are being
considered by many car makers.
Furniture plants, especially those in hardwood producing sections and thus
in close touch with supply and de-

LUMBER ORDERS NOW
EXCEED PRODUCTION

Big Improvement in Market Is Noted in Last Few Weeks

Reports from all important lumber
producing and consuming centers to
the American Lumberman, Chicago,
show a decided upward turn in demand and prices. Returns from the larger commercial sawmills presenting comparable statistics that during
the week ended Aug. 2 shipments
were 113 and orders 120 per cent of
actual production. Orders received
by West Coast Lumbermen's Association mills exceeded production by 25
per cent; those received by the mills
of the Southern Pine Association
were 33.50 per cent greater than their
output.
Lumbermen have every reason for
expecting an increasingly large demand, for reports from the grain
states show large reductions in loans
and rapidly mounting bank deposits,
while building permits issued in 328
cities during the first six months of 1924 exceeded the total for the corresponding week of 1923 by 8 per cent.
Reports from the South are that
heavy shipments are depleting mill
stocks, so that it becomes increasingly
difficult to fill mixed orders. Stocks
at the west coast as of Aug. 1, according to a survey of 135 stock-carrying
mills, have seldom been as light since
that producing region achieved pri-

many importance in the lumber market.
Softwood prices, in view of the expanding demand, naturally tend upward. Prices of southern pine has declined by June to 15 per cent below
the level of June, 1923, so that many
small operators were forced to close down, and others to curtail. And the
returns realized by West Coast mills
had sunk to a point where shut-
downs were necessary to avoid loss.
Producers everywhere are conservative as regards output, and they refuse to book ahead while the market
shows signs of a great strengthening.
Hardwoods, in view of the gradual
revival of interest in their purchase
by industrial consumers, are taking
on firmness. Automobile body plants
are preparing for fuller operations,
while enlarged schedules are being
considered by many car makers.
Furniture plants, especially those in
hardwood producing sections and thus
in close touch with supply and demand, show greater interest in buying. The agricultural implement industry is confidently expected to be a strong factor in the market.

Roland Blank Found Guilty After Trial in Municipal Court

Roland Blank of Appleton, who had entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of speeding a few days ago,
was found guilty Thursday afternoon
by Judge Fred V. Heinemann, acting municipal judge. The expense of trying the case raised Blank's fine and costs from $13.20 to $16.41.

Allen Kaufman, county motorcycle officer, maintained that Blank was hitting 51 miles an hour when arrested. The defense retailed with a statement attributed to Wilbur Bogan, also a county motorcycle officer, that Kaufman's speedometer was not accurate. Kaufman admitted that in Bogan's, there was a difference of four miles an hour between the two.

Harold Zaig of New London, arrested Thursday by John Frenz, county officer, paid a fine of $13.20
for speeding on a county highway.
Victor Kellner of Appleton was assessed $5 and costs by Judge Heinemann for driving a car with insufficient lights. Kellner was arrested Thursday by Officer Kaufman.

LETTER FROM ELLEN BLEDSOE TO SARAH HENDRICKS. CONTINUED

It was rather interesting to hear the doctor this morning, Sadie. He said that Mr. Carton was getting along all right, except that some thing must be troubling him—his nerves seemed shot to pieces. Mr. Carton looked at me, but I acted as if the doctor's diagnosis meant nothing to me.

After the doctor had gone Mr. Carton continued:

"What do you think I had better do with this little piece of coral, Miss Bledsoe?"

"Well," I said, "that depends on how much you believe of the story connected with it."

"Then, do you want to keep the tricket?"

"Of course I do. He's a pretty fellow, isn't he?"

"Personally, Mr. Carton," I answered, "I think he's very ugly, but I think he's very interesting and I should think you'd want to keep him."

I said this, Sadie, because I knew the poor man wanted to hang on to the little statue, and besides I couldn't see how he could explain why he hadn't turned him over to his friend in the first place.

"Well, I guess I'll take your advice," said Mr. Carton. "But remember if I get into any trouble you'll have to take the blame," he added with a smile.

I said just like a man? He's always wanting some woman to be vicariously punished for his own sins.

There, my dear, I have shattered every bit of professional ethics possible in this letter, but it was so interesting, and I knew you will not be tray me in any way—we have been together too long and talked over too many bedside secrets.

I haven't yet decided whether Mr. Carton is in love with his friend's wife or not, but I do know this, now ever much he is in love with her, she doesn't know it and he will never tell her. Between you and me I think he is quite the best man of the two, although Mr. Prescott seemed very charming.

I could see he is rather weak where women are concerned. I'd awfully much like to see Mrs. Prescott. I imagine she is a very nice woman—otherwise she would not have written the kind of a letter she did to her husband about the little god.

I'm wondering why this Mr. Sadie Carton was never married. I should have thought that somebody would have gobbled him up, for you know, Sadie, that if any woman gets her eye upon a man she is usually clever enough to make him think he wants her. George Bernard Shaw was right when he said that it was a man's business to obtain the where withal to live like a gentleman, and it was a woman's business to get married.

I used to think, before I finished my training, that I would be married before this, but I see so much of men's weaknesses and foolish idiosyncrasies that I'd be afraid to accept any one of them.

How's your young man, dear? Does he still fulfill all your ideals? When are you going to be married? Let me know in time, for I want to come to the wedding. Sincerely, ELLEN

"Y", Post-Crescent Cooperate To Start Horseshoe Tourney

Barnyard Golf Due for Revival
in Appleton When City Champs Battle for Crown on Sept. 6.

Barnyard golf is due for a revival in Appleton. The Y. M. C. A. and Post-Crescent have combined in a campaign to put this ancient sport back on the map here and are organizing a tournament to be held on Saturday, Sept. 6, on the "Y" courts. The matches will start at 4 P. M.

National association rules will apply, with several changes made to fit local conditions. An entry blank will be found on this page for the convenience of those interested, which is to be filled out and sent or brought to the Y. M. C. A. or the Post-Crescent offices on or before Wednesday, Sept. 3.

Drawings for play will be made by the officials of the tournament on that date and will be published the day before the tourney starts.

The elimination style of play will be used and only singles will be played, the winner of two games out of three taking the match in the preliminary. In the final, three out of five games will decide the winner. Twenty-one points will constitute a game, and the first contestant scoring this number will be declared winner.

Entrants will be permitted to pitch shoes provided by themselves if these comply with the national rules. According to this regulation, no shoe shall exceed the following specifications: length 7 1/2 inches, width 7 inches, weight 2 1/2 pounds. No toe or heel cap shall measure more than 3/4 inches in length and the opening between heels shall not exceed 3/4 inches in width.

Horseshoe pitching is one of the most inexpensive games to play and is designed to permit anyone to participate. Great skill may be developed through practice as in any other game, and once started fans generally develop intense rivalry. A large number of entries is expected in the city tournament now planned, and it will be advisable to get the blanks in as soon as possible to avoid confusion.

FOX RIVER TEAM INVADERS FREMONT

Weather permitting, the Fox River Paper Co. team of Appleton Sunday afternoon, will invade Fremont for a contest with the strong Legion team of that city. The two hostile clubs had planned to meet on several previous occasions, but rain interfered each time and forced them to postpone their engagement.

Fremont is one of the strongest independent teams in this part of the state, and the Fox River club has won four straight tilts after recovering from a poor start at the beginning of the season.

Last will do the mound work for the Fox River team with Baetz at the receiving end.

KIMBERLY-CLARK PLAYS AT KOHLER

Sheboygan—The baseball team representing the Kimberly-Clark Co. of Kimberly appear on the Kohler diamond Saturday afternoon, August 16, at 3:45 against the Kohler Recreation club nine.

Kohler and the Kimberly-Clark met at Kimberly on July 18, and staged a game said to be one of the most interesting contests played in that city, this year. It was an eleven-inning game and resulted in a 11 to 3 victory for Kohler. The result of this game indicates that the game Saturday should be well worth witnessing.

"Ham" Gottsacker is on the mound for the Kohlerites and will be supported in the field by the following: Aschenbrenner, catcher; Bubbs (first base); Bartzon, second base; Demmin, third base; Wilbert, shortstop; Kohler, left field; Steen, center field; Wilke, right field.

MINNESOTA EXPECTS STRONG GRID SQUADS

Minnesota expects to put a strong football team on the field this fall with Malcolm Graham, star quarterback, as the outstanding player. The Gophers, however, will be minus the services of Earl Martineau, crack halfback, who has graduated. For three seasons Martineau was the big noise in the Minnesota attack. His place will be heard to fill.

FORMER WHITE SOX ACE STARS WITH COLUMBUS

Rob Russell, former White Sox and Pittsburgh star, is playing a good game with Columbus. At present he is out in front in home runs and stands up well in hitting. Russell, for some reason or other, rates as a stellar performer in Double A competition but falters when up against big league pitching as was evidenced last season when he was a member of the Pirates.

Pails Plan Tilt With Nash Club

Bad baseball weather has put a crimp in the Pails' pocketbook this season, and to bring back its old, round-topped Neenah-Menasha club of the state league has scheduled a booster game for Sept. 16, at Menasha. The Nash club of the Midwest league has been chosen to furnish competition for the Pails on that date, and it is expected this contest will draw a record crowd.

The Twin cities are enthusiastic baseball followers and draw the largest crowds in the McGilligan circuit, but the Kushites were dealt a severe blow this year by excessive rains. The league leaders have perhaps the largest payroll in the circuit and where some of the other clubs are paying one dollar, the Twin City magnates are paying three or four. For this reason they have been hit harder than any other team with the possible exception of Green Bay, and although they play several times a week to fairly good crowds, their finances have suffered.

Forest Hills, N. Y.—Miss Helen Wills of Berkeley, Calif., the defending champion, and Mrs. Molla Mallory of New York meet in the final round of the women's tennis championship on the turf courts of the Westside Tennis club here Saturday. The girl from the coast met and defeated Mrs. Mallory in the final round last year in straight sets, and again met and administered a beating to the New Yorker in the Olympic championship.

Helen Wills Meets Molla In Net Final

The champion was forced to the limit in the semi-final round by her sister Californian Miss Mary K. Browne, who only succumbed after a terrific fight, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3. Miss Wills was famous ten years ago, her opponent's steadiness being the deciding factor of the match. Mrs. Mallory had a comparatively easy time, defeating Miss Eleanor Goss in their semi-final match, 6-3, 6-3. Mrs. Mallory's powerful driving game proving too much for her tall opponent.

It was announced that the Mallory-Wills match would start at 2 P. M.

Newark—Ermina Spalla, heavy-weight champion of Europe, knocked out Fred Mays of Jersey City in the second round of a scheduled 12-round contest.

BOOTS ANTLEY

The south has a new featherweight champion. In Boots Antley of Columbus, Ga., a southpaw, who has been in the professional game less than two years, Antley is less a slugger than a boxer and depends mainly on science and speed for victory.

GARDNER TAKES GOLF CROWN BY BEATING SIXTY

New Amateur Champion Started Playing Only Four Years Ago, Is Claim

Kenosha—Playing a dogged uphill game through one of the hardest-fought matches ever played in a state titular event, Herb Gardner of Blue Mound, a dark horse, battled his way to the amateur championship of Wisconsin here Friday afternoon when he defeated Billy Sixty, Milwaukee, in a thrilling 36-hole tussle, 1 up.

Gardner, catching the Milwaukee youngster a bit off his game after two heart-breaking matches Thursday, when he eliminated Ned Allis and Dick Cavanaugh, played a steady, plugging game all the way and took the match on the thirty-sixth hole after coming from behind and having the match on the thirty-fifth.

PLAYS BUT FOUR YEARS

Gardner, a newcomer in Wisconsin golf, never had a golf stick in his hand until four years ago. He played a steady, consistent game all through the tournament, winning all his matches on the final putting green.

He was hitting in the punch all the time and always came through with the winning stroke when it was needed the most.

In the second round he eliminated Buster Erick, the Sheboygan star, on the eighteenth green and in the third round he put out Slim Martin, the crack Kenosha youngster, on the final putting square.

Next came Ken Dickenson, Appleton, whom he also defeated in the semi-finals on the final green.

To further demonstrate that he has all the qualifications of a real champion, he carried through again in his final match by playing one of the most brilliant second shots to the trapped eighteenth green ever seen in a tournament anywhere.

It was his consistency with his iron to the green that carried him through the title struggle. He was always on the line of the pin with his second shots and never took more than two putts in the afternoon round.

"LOOKING FORWARD"

One trip usually brings on another and it is generally an established fact that bait tossers of the wet and dry fly, artificials and followers of lake and trout streams, are looking forward to the next trip before the one being taken is at a close, and in the meantime, between trips, there is a lot of parlor or porch fishing, planning etc., which makes a trip more interesting and enthusiastic.

Fond Du Lac Plans To Vanquish Papermakers

Appleton Club Will Seek Revenge for 7 to 3 Defeat at Hands of Cardinals in First Half of Schedule.

HOW THEY STAND

APPLETON	2	1	1	.667
Green Bay	2	1	1	.667

Sheboygan	1	2	1	.333
Fond du Lac	0	3	1	.000

SUNDAY'S SCHEDULE
APPLETON AT FOND DU LAC.
Sheboygan at Menasha.
Oshkosh at Green Bay.

Fond du Lac is planning to break into the win column at Appleton's expense Sunday, and it is reported there that Louis Faris has signed a number of new players in preparation for that contest. Meanwhile the Papermakers are looking for revenge on the Cardinals who defeated them, 7 to 3, during the first half of the schedule. The Appleton club staged a remarkable comeback by trimming Green Bay last Sunday and Faris will have to go some to fulfill his threat. But anyone who expects Smith's hirings to have an easy job may get a big surprise. Despite the fact that the Redlegs have lost three and split one in their four last starts, they are by no means a weak team. Most of their contests were dropped by a single run, and three of them went for extra innings.

Recently they held Billy Liebi's Chairmakers to a scoreless tie, which speaks volumes for their strength and ability. The Papermakers have beaten Sheboygan, it is true, but so has Fond du Lac defeated the Appleton club.

Sheboygan and Neenah-Menasha are scheduled to lock horns at Menasha, which promises another interesting contest. Buster Braun is back in his old form and expects to clean up on the leaders.

Oshkosh invades Green Bay Sunday. The Indians are the half a game behind Appleton and the Braly aggression and would like nothing better than to pass the two second place clubs.

WE suppose the first split personality on record was none other than Mr. Even Stephen, so popular in current sport slang.

Or it may have been, as One Punch O'Grady suggests, the two Fifty-Fifty boys, who were always eager to split the check.

It is fine to know that Babe Ruth is doing so well in home runs this season, yet we do miss those many accounts of his social activities.

Walter Johnson says he never threw a ball at a batter's head. Mr. Johnson recognizes the futility of attacking Gibraltar with a peashooter.

Whenever the man of the house stoops brushing his eyebrows the little woman may rest assured his outside interests run largely to business.

The good Senor Firpo insists the report that he sleeps on the floor is a lot of bunk. It would take a lot of bunk to hold the good Senor.

Kid McCoy is arranging to take his nint's bride. The dispatches do not say for how much.

The O'Grady's in the dime pews who aren't exactly accustomed to rubbing shoulders with royalty in the flesh will probably have to be smarted up as to the proper and precise manner of greeting the Empire's greatest commiser.

As long as fellows like Battling Siki are at large we don't think the practice of muzzling dogs in hot weather should be encouraged.

Receipts of the Olympic games amounted to little more than $300,000. The boys will have to do better than that if they want Tex Rickard to take the thing over.

Don't cup your lips and yell. "Hello, buddy! How's the giddy blondes in Trafalgar Square?" The prince has a brunette complex.

You can't get goobers or hot dogs at the polo matches. That's why everybody prefers the ball game.

Don't ask the prince over to have a hot dog with you under the grandstand. The prince has one of the gaudiest kennels in England.

Don't get vexed at the prince, should he miss a goal, and start to shower him with wild razberries. The prince prefers the fruits of victory.

Don't invite the prince out to the Steam Fitters' Annual Clam Bake and Social Outing. The prince knows as well as anybody else what an awful flop a clam bake is without real beer.

Don't lure the young gent into listening to any new stories. One thing Calvin promised the old man was that Wales wouldn't return with any off-color jokes.

Don't try to talk shop with the prince. If there is one thing that gets a prince's regal goat it is a nosey acquaintance who insists on asking, "Well, how's tricks around the old point?"

Don't expect the prince to auto graph one of his horses and give it to you just because you want something to remember him by. Be satisfied with a saddle or a little chummy trip to a Ben Turpin movie.

Don't bust in on the prince when he is in conference and demand to know what's wrong with Joe Beckett and the rest of the English heavyweights. The prince is over here to enjoy himself.

IOWA GRIDDERS WILL CLASH WITH ANN ARBOR

Iowa football eleven will make its first appearance at Ann Arbor since Yost came to Michigan when the Hawkeyes and Wolverines clash on Perry Field in November. It will be the second meeting between the two schools since 1902, relations having been resumed last fall at Iowa City, Iowa, incidentally, hasn't whipped a Michigan team since 1900.

Helps Pirates

"WOZ" KREMER

They used to call him the old man of the Pacific Coast, but just the same "Woz" Kremer is doing some mighty fancy pitching for the Pittsburgh Pirates these days. Pittsburgh created a surprise by purchasing Kremer, who was supposedly through as a big-time operator.

NEENAH BOATS WILL RACE AT MINNETONKA

Oshkosh — Wisconsin, the land of lakes, will lead the field by far in the point of entries and may further establish her fame when the Inland Lake Yachting association races get under way at Lake Minnetonka, Minneapolis, Aug. 18, continuing to 23.

Fourteen class A boats, among which are Johnny Buckstaff's Faith and Carl Steiger's Deltos, III, both of this city, and Aderyn, Onaway and Shadow, all of Neenah, together with thirty-one class C boats and three class E craft, comprise the field of contenders.

The Class A boats hail from the Oshkosh and Neenah Yacht clubs, from Pigeon Lake, Minnetonka, Delavan Lake, Pewaukee Lake and Lake Geneva. The principle contenders in class C represent Pewaukee, White Bear Lake and Lake Geneva. There are but three class E boats, representing Minnetonka and Pine Lakes.

Class E is the new class that has been established. A $750 perpetual challenge cup, to be held by a winner for one year, is the trophy that is up to be captured for the first time when the three yachts race next week.

The cup was put up as the result of subscriptions taken among the numerous yacht clubs. In addition, the Inland Lake Yachting association trophies for first, second and third place winners swell the prize list in the new class.

In the other classes there are the Bray and Carpenter cups, Gilbert cup, Dr. O. L. Schmidt, Valentine, Davis and Athearn cups, in addition to the first, second and third place trophies for each class.

Do you know Baseball? by Billy Evans

QUESTIONS

1. There is a runner on third. Pitcher starts his windup and accidentally hits his arm against his leg, the ball rolling 10 or 15 feet. Runner dashes for home, pitcher regains ball and throws him out at the plate. What is the proper ruling? H. F. D.

2. Batter strikes out. Starts for the bench, believing the catcher has caught the ball. Shouts from his teammates tell him the ball has gotten away. He has gone about 20 feet toward his bench. He starts for first and beats the throw of the catcher. Is he safe or out for running out of line?—F. D. A.

3. When is the batter automatically out on strikes whether the catcher holds the third strike or not? Why was such a rule made?—C. F. S.

ANSWERS

1. Pitcher in dropping the ball after starting his windup fails to deliver same to the batsman and has made a balk. No consideration can be given the fact that it was accidental. The runner on third, retired at the plate, is entitled to score.

2. He has such a right and is not out for running out of line, as many think. In going toward the bench he did not avoid being touched with the ball, simply making the distance to first all the longer.

3. The batsman is automatically out on strikes if first base is occupied by a baserunner, and the third strike is called unless two men are already out. The rule was made to prevent the catcher from purposely dropping the ball and trying for a double play.

Slugging Pirates Cut Giants' Lead To Four Games By 6 To 4 Win

Chicago Gains Full Game on Champs But Remains Three and a Half Games Behind
Second Place Pittsburgh.

The New York Giants lead in the fight for the National league pennant stands at four games Saturday as the result of their defeat at the hands of the slugging Pirates. The McGrawites lost a full game in the standing of the clubs, Artie Nehf, star southpaw of the Giants, was knocked out of the box in the third when the Pittsburghers tallied five runs, winning, 6 to 4.

Chicago by their defeat of Philadelphia, 5 to 6, gained a full game on the Giants but remained three and a half games back of Pittsburgh in second place.

The Dodgers in fourth place lost ground when Cincinnati battered Grimes out of the box in the fifth inning and went on to win, 10 to 5. Uncle Robbie's Brooklyn club is now two full games behind the Cubs in third place and nine and a half games behind the leaders, Cincinnati is two and a half games behind the Dodgers and ten and a half games in front of the Cardinals who dunned the score of their opponents, the Boston Braves, 6 to 3.

In the American league the Tigers gained a half game on the leading Yankees who remained idle, while the Detroit club was administering a 4 to 3 licking to the Athletics.

The White Sox dropped a full game in the standing of the clubs but remained in sixth place when Boston made it four in a row, winning a close decision, 6 to 5.

BEGIN SURVEY OF PINE FORESTS IN NORTH WISCONSIN

Investigators Want to Learn What Farmers Can Expect from Pine

Madison.—An extensive investigation and survey of pine forests in Wisconsin has been undertaken by the state conservation commission, cooperating with the Lake States Forest Experiment station at St. Paul, according to announcement today by Elmer S. Hall, conservation commissioner.

C. L. Harrington, state superintendent of forests, has just completed an extensive tour and inspection with a party of investigators from the federal station. A sub-station has been established in the northern part of the state from which operations of the survey will be conducted.

"The primary purpose of the investigation is to determine what Wisconsin farmers and other can expect in the future of pine forests," Superintendent Harrington said. "The growth of trees is being studied, together with period of replacement, the size of trees and the types of soils in which different classes of pine trees will grow best. Special emphasis is now being placed on the jack pine, which the investigators have found grows well in a sandy soil.

Attention also is being given to the present and possible value of second-growth pine and hardwoods to determine the value of different classes of land for timber purposes.

It is said by officials that methods for effective forest fire prevention may be one of the outcomes of the survey.

The Wisconsin study is similar to one to be undertaken by the Lake States station in cooperation with the Michigan conservation officials. The work is under the supervision of Dr. Raphael Zon, supervisor of the lake states plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Pfeiffer of Apple Creek and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jarchow of Mackville left Friday for Three Lakes and Eagle River where they were to spend several days.

KELLER ELECTED HEAD OF WISCONSIN LEGION

Gustave J. Keller, his brother, in the firm of Keller and Keller. He was a second lieutenant in Co. A, 150th machine gun battalion, Rainbow division, during the World war. His law education was obtained at Marquette university, Milwaukee.

HANTSCHIEL IS DELEGATE

John Hantschiel, county clerk, was elected as one of the Wisconsin delegates to the national legion convention in St. Paul next month, and Martin Peeters and Peter Goertl were elected as alternates.

Among the Appleton people at the convention were Mr. and Mrs. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Hantschiel, Mr. and Mrs. Peeters, Peter Goertl, Thomas Morrisey, A. C. Bossert, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Myse, Mrs. Clyde Cavert, Mrs. George Hogreiver, Mrs. Louis Plotow, Mrs. F. D. Kirk and Mrs. D. J. Boyle. Mrs. Ruth Sutton donated, although, was elected president, the ladies auxiliary of the American legion which held its convention at the same time.

Mrs. Doland defeated Mrs. R. E. Hart of Cumberland, auxiliary historian, 148 to 81. Mrs. Hart was later re-elected historian. George Howitt, Pewaukee; the Rev. Harry S. Ruth, Ashland, and Dr. Frank Stekl, Baraboo, were elected Legion vice commanders. Others auxiliary officers elected were: Mrs. Joseph Brady, West Allis, first vice president; Mrs. Frank Schneller, Neenah, second vice president; Mrs. J. R. McLain, Marinette, treasurer.

BACK DEFENSE DAY

National Defense day, set for Sept. 12, has the backing of the Wisconsin Legion and the resolution adopted at the convention Friday urged that all posts give their support to the demonstration, in accordance with the requests of President Coolidge and the war department.

Another resolution adopted expressed regret over the retirement of Gen. John J. Pershing as head of the United States army, and directed that a copy be sent to the general.

The navy department was requested by resolution to assign an eagle boat to the Milwaukee naval reserve. Provision was made from the treasury for erection of tents on the American Legion camp site, to be purchased between Star and Plum lakes in Vilas county.

Mrs. Adalin Wright-Macaulay, retiring state president of the American Legion auxiliary, will be the next national president of the organization if a demonstration which lasted several minutes after she had been proposed for this honor at Friday morning's session of the Wisconsin department, in convention here, has any significance.

A resolution, which was promptly passed, urged that the Menominee women for the national presidency, was the cause of the demonstration. The auxiliary Friday morning also declared itself opposed to "radical pacifism" and gave its approval to National Defense day.

Wrecked Ace Denies Plane Hit Foothill

By Associated Press

Bellingham, Wash.—William Sullivan, fireman at a fish hatchery at Port Moller, Alaska, "may call the sloping ground where my plane crashed a foothill, but I consider it a mountain," declared Major Frederick L. Martin here Saturday night, when informed of Port Moller dispatches.

"Mr. Sullivan is wrong when he says that the flag plane Seattle could have avoided the 'foothill' and the mountain one mile away" by flying 150 feet higher," said Major Martin, former commander of the American Army globe encircling expedition in refuting Port Moller statements. "At the time of the crash, April 30, Staff Sergeant Alva A. Harvey and myself were 1,000 feet above sea level, and 1,500 feet from the top of the mountain where we landed."

"After getting our first bearings, Harvey and myself tramped for two hours through the snow in an attempt to reach the top of the mountain. We found that we couldn't make it so we returned to the wrecked plane."

Major Martin arrived in Bellingham about a month ago to visit his wife, who has been here since he returned to the states. He is on a 60-day leave of absence.

THREE HURT WHEN AUTOMOBILE SKIDS

Slippery pavement on Highway 15, about 1 1/2 miles east of Kaukauna, are blamed for an accident in which two cars were damaged and at least three persons injured Friday morning.

J. J. Barthanski, an Illinois tourist, slammed on his brakes and his car skidded into another machine, the owner of which, was not identified. Barthanski's car turned over and three young women were hurt. Miss I. Sweeney suffered a broken arm and it is said that the Misses A. Golt and D. Golt received severe bruises. Barthanski's car was taken to Kaukauna and the other machine went on to Green Bay.

Announcement

For some time the need has been felt of keeping Central Fox River Valley Industries before the public. Manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers of this section should be placed more prominently before the people, for too few of us are familiar with business houses of this "Famous Valley" and the service which they afford.

To fill this need The Post-Crescent is publishing a Review of Central Fox River Valley Industries weekly, starting with this issue.

This review will be devoted to the Progress of The Central Fox River Valley Industries and an effort will be made to keep the public informed of all changes and advancements. There will be special articles from time to time devoted to the general business outlook and business conditions generally.

A member of The Post-Crescent staff has been specially assigned to this work, and the cooperation of everyone is asked in keeping the public informed of news and progress of the industries here.

Super-Power Plant Would Be Strengthening Factor For Public Utilities Bonds

Babson Park, Mass.—The possible development of 4,000,000 electrical horsepower on the St. Lawrence river, whether the waterway project is undertaken or not, has again brought up the problem of the effect of super-power developments on existing public properties now generating and selling electrical power. At least one investment authority, Roger W. Babson, believes that such a development will strengthen the local companies and work to the advantage of those who own their securities.

"Super-power proposes to 'bank' the power of existing producers of electric energy by connecting individual systems and adding the output of water powers that may be developed as economical sources of electrical energy," says the statistician. "A single system has been proposed, for instance, that would embrace all territory between Boston and Washington, D. C. This would immediately make the same electrical power available in this entire territory that now exists only in our large cities. Manufacturing under these circumstances need not concentrate in the congested districts but could locate wherever natural advantages of raw material, nearness to market or other factors might dictate. Efficient, economical and almost unlimited electrical power would be available anywhere.

RESERVE SUPPLY
"Operating individually each company must maintain equipment to carry a peak load just as banks in old days were forced to protect themselves with a reserve large enough to meet emergency demands. Under a super-power arrangement with scores of power plants tied together individual improvement need not be great. "A tremendous public advantage would also accrue from the economies of a super-power system. The development of water powers and the organization of systems that supply uniform electric service over large areas would make possible the electrification of many railroads. Where steam power is necessary the energy could be generated at the nearest possible point to the railroad and transmitted by high power lines to the point where it is needed. "It is estimated that our energy requirements for 1930 will approximate $1,000,000,000 kilowatt hours. Super-power systems could produce and deliver this volume at a saving of $289,000,000 over what it would cost if produced under the individual meet system. A saving of some 50,000,000 tons of coal would also be made by the super-power organization in producing this volume of power.

"Just now, when we have a tremendous cash reserve and business is a bit slack—the Babsonchart shows general activity at 14 per cent below normal—we may well turn our attention toward super-power projects. And the present owners of power and light securities," concluded Mr. Babson, "can well afford to interest themselves in the promotion and development of this more effective organization of our power resources."

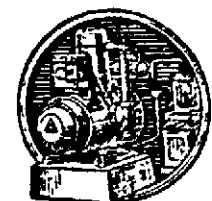

Theodore West Welcomes Inspection Of Dairy Plant

Theodore J. West, formerly connected with the Riverdale Dairy established a dairy business of his own on Route 6, Appleton, and is prepared to serve his customers with milk taken from tuberculin free cows.

"My plant is open to inspection by the public and we invite Appleton people to look it over and see for themselves how a modern dairy is conducted," Mr. West said. "We pride ourselves on the cleanliness of our premises and the quality of our milk." Mr. West said he has no connection now with the Riverdale dairy and is entirely independent of other dairy concerns. Mr. West has been in the dairy business for ten years and has a wide circle of acquaintances in the city.

ITALIAN TOURISTS ARE TRAVELING AROUND WORLD

A heavy touring car with an Italian license and a tanner bearing the words, "Around the World," passed south over Lake-st bridge this week. It was occupied by six men and was one of the heaviest cars seen on Highway 15 this season. Tourist traffic on highway 15 is heavier this year than it even was before.

Asks Receiver For Motor Firm

Appointment of a receiver for the Falls Motor Corporation, Sheboygan and Sheboygan Falls, is sought in a suit filed in federal court Tuesday by the First Wisconsin Trust Co. and George B. Luhman, trust officer of the company. The amount involved is $500,000. The defendant is a Virginia corporation licensed to do business in Wisconsin, with its principal offices in Richmond, Va., and plants in Sheboygan and Sheboygan Falls. It manufactures automobile engines. The Hueschert Machinery Co., Chicago, and the Jefferson Forge Products Co., Detroit, are named in the suit. They have claims against the Falls company and an injunction is asked to restrain them from getting priority for their claims. The complaint also asks that the officers of the Falls Motor corporation be enjoined from dissipating its assets.

GERMAN TEXTILES ON PRE-WAR BASIS
Exports from Germany Nearly Back to Volume of Before the War

Cologne—Textile shipments to the United States from the Elberfeld-Barmen district on other German manufacturing centers have returned virtually to the pre-war basis. Shipments of nearly all other commodities from Germany to America are far below normal, however, owing to the prevailing high prices practically on everything manufactured in this country.

Most of the fabrics, consisting chiefly of dress materials, silks, millinery trimmings and other articles for women's wear are made especially for the American trade, on mail or telegraphic order, and on an average are of a higher quality than taken by any other country. Some of the textiles which have gone forward to the United States recently were contracted for prior to the occupation of the Ruhr by the French and Belgian forces in January, 1923, the delay in filling the orders being due to the fact that for many months last year the plants in the textile manufacturing areas were at a standstill as part of the German program of passive resistance.

The demand for high grade dress materials is so great in the United States, according to textile manufacturers here, that the American importers can afford to pay the increased cost which in many instances is double that of the period prior to the war.

MORE EMPLOYMENT IN BADGER CITIES

Steady Improvement in Employment Situation Noted in Report

The employment situation in Wisconsin is gradually improving, according to the industrial employment information bureau bulletin for July, issued today by the United States department of labor. Survey of conditions in Wisconsin's leading cities is given as follows:

MILWAUKEE DISTRICT
There is a surplus of workers in all lines excepting the building trades. A slight improvement was noticeable during July in motor accessory plants and they are adding a few men. Building in this city remains active and a number of large projects are under way. During the last three weeks the demand for farm labor has increased and there is a shortage of experienced farm hands.

GREEN BAY
Shortage of female domestics for home and hotel work reported. The canning season is now open and many hundreds of workers are being employed. Paper mills are running three shifts, but are still considerably below normal, and the surplus of skilled and unskilled workmen continues.

FOND DU LAC
A decrease was reported in employment in three factories last month, but all other factories report normal forces engaged.

SHEBOYGAN
Surplus of common labor, truck drivers, and female clerical workers exists in this city and a shortage of farm hands, masons and a slight shortage of carpenters is reported.

WAUSAU
There is a surplus of practically all classes of labor here except carpenters, bricklayers and finishers. Common labor is more plentiful than in several years, but farm labor is scarce and in heavy demand. A canning factory is soon to open. It will can peas, beans, and beets and continue in operation from six to eight weeks, employing several hundred persons. A very large building program is under way and local tradesmen are well employed.
